The Camp Is Conceived

Avon Park Camp History, part 1 of 9

They Had A Dream:

It was 1937 and the Rev. Dr. John A. Taylor and his wife, Helen, shared a vision—a holiness encampment established on their 40 acre plot of ground within the city limits of Avon Park, Florida.

Filled with anticipation, the Taylors contacted the Rev. Dr. Henry Clay Morrison at Asbury College.

Would he be willing to oversee the project if the land were given to the school? Dr. Morrison agreed and soon the idea began to take shape. The property was deeded to Asbury College on December 30, 1937.

Dr. Morrison publicized the new campground in The Pentecostal Herald and news spread across the land. A new holiness camp was to be established below the frost line in sunny Florida. People began to ask questions. What would it cost for a lot? When might the encampment begin?

Then difficulty set in. Dr. Morrison developed problems with his heart. Unable to complete the charge, he recommended the camp be transferred to People's Bible College (now Wesley College in North Carolina). Thus the holiness camp in beautiful central Florida grew into reality under the direction of Rev. Jim Green.

Strange Preacher's Kid

In the book of Daniel, when King Nebuchadnezzar threatened three Hebrew boys with death in a fiery furnace, they were not concerned about being burned in the fire. They were more concerned with doing the will of God. Their relationship with God allowed them to trust that He was with them.
